-NATIONAL NEWSLETTER HOLIDAY EDITION-

Lifting the spirits of children with cancer!

Volume Number 04, Issue 6

During the holidays, we often feel guilty for what we should or could have done. Well, I say this is the time of year where we should all hold our heads high and cherish the accomplishments of the past year. If you are reading this, you are part of the Camp Quality family: a family of givers; a family of positive, energetic doers who are front-page material. Your contributions during the past year have made a difference in the lives of many, many people: campers and their families, as well as companions, the COC and the National Board. "Lifting the spirits of children with cancer" affects more than just our campers. A positive bi-product of the goodwill you impart! It is infectious. What you do puts a smile on so many faces, including mine. It makes the tough days seem insignificant; it provides the fuel to roll up sleeves to move mountains alongside fellow CQers. So this holiday season, I am decorating my tree with good deeds you have done, decking my halls with pictures of the fun we had at Camp Quality and I am singing carols of accomplishment and pride for what we all have done this year. Thank you to all the volunteers that make Camp Quality such a joyful organization to belong to. Thank you for your support all year with the Camp Quality programs around the country. May you have a safe holiday season and may you get pumped for Camp Quality in 2005. It is going to be a doozy!

Happy Holidays from Camp Quality Canada!
